5th Anniversary

Protesting every Saturday at 10:00 am to promote:

A Sustainable Environment
Economic and Social Justice
Grassroots Democracy
Honest Government
Wage Peace

Frank Esposito spent nine days from September 13- 21, in Standing Rock, North Dakota. Frank will provide his firsthand account and photos of the continuing confrontations between oil pipeline barons and nationwide Native American tribal members.

“I have learned a lot about the Lakota Dakota Nakota people and their homeland. The camp is on the traditional hunting grounds and was a place where opposing tribes would meet to discuss treaties. This is truly historic.”
